Timothy and Titus

Among the writings of the apostle Paul were a number of personal letters written to young men whose lives were devoted to the work of the mission of God. These letters not only offer insight into these working relationships, but also suggest plenty of important lessons for those working among the people of God today.

Join us as we explore these documents, trying to understand them within the contexts in which they were written, and discovering important truths for our walk with Jesus in the 21st century.

Presenter: John Griffiths

Thursdays at 8.00 pm

Understanding the Word of God

Any text, particularly any ancient text written in contexts far removed from our own, needs interpreting in order to be understood. To do so requires good practice in order to understand not only what it meant to those for whom it was first written, but also what it might mean for us today.

In these sessions we will begin to explore our approach to Scripture, examine various styles of writing, consider the importance of context and perspective, and see what light the writings themselves have to shine upon the principles of interpretation.

Presenter: Patrick Boyns

Bible Quiz Time!

Some light-hearted, educational, entertainment! This really is for everyone - nothing too testing (promise!).

You might want to have a pen and paper handy - plus a box of choccies to award yourself if you happen to win - or even if you don't. We'd love to present these personally, but under the circumstances this is a little tricky ...

We will generally hold this every first Friday, but please check online.
